AUSTRALIAN SOUTH SEA PEARLS

Perlís Jewellery is 100% made in Australia, and is made exclusively using Australian materials, hand crafted to provide you with the very best in Australian jewellery. We pride ourselves on not only to manufacturing the finest jewellery, but also our commitment to using all-Australian materials in the process.

The South Sea Pearls in Perlís Jewellery are farmed in the bays and coves of the rugged Kimberley region, between Broome and Darwin in Australia's north-west, using the very highest standards available. Every pearl is unique. Our expert jewellers work to ensure that each pearl is used to its fullest potential and that its distinctive beauty is harnessed to produce a truly individual piece.

Our diamonds are sourced from the internationally renowned Argyle Diamond mines of Western Australia produce the finest, darkest and most valuable pink diamonds, champagne and cognac diamonds, and pure white diamonds in the world, while Western Australia's Ellendale Mine produces some of the most vivid fancy yellow diamonds.

Perlís uses gold that is exclusively mined in Central Victoria, Queensland, Western Australia and the Northern Territory. The vast majority of Perlís silver is mined in Broken Hill, New South Wales and Mount Isa, Queensland.
