ABOUT WOODLEIGH HILLS

Woodleigh Hills honours the wisdom of healers who have long identified the power of plants across cultures.

We are especially inspired by Australian native plants, first used in traditional medicine, and strive to create pure, natural remedies that respect this deep heritage. With gratitude, we invite you to share in nature's healing journey.

Thank you for considering Woodleigh Hills products for your store. I'm incredibly proud of the difference our range makes in the lives of those who experience it. Our products offer something truly unique—both in design and quality. They not only catch the eye but create a memorable experience for your customers, leading to repeat visits and lasting loyalty.

By stocking Woodleigh Hills, you're offering more than just beautiful products; you're giving your customers something special that they won't find anywhere else. I truly believe that once you see the reactions from your customers, you'll understand why we're so passionate about what we do.

I'm excited for you to be part of the Woodleigh Hills family.

*With love,
Justine xx*

OUR INGREDIENTS

Woodleigh Hills Farm is dedicated to ensuring the continuity, quality, and control of our healing products. Our on-farm native tree plantation nurtures Australian native plants from seed to salve, guaranteeing a sustainable and ethically sourced ingredient supply.

Our products are so simple but incredibly effective! We only use FOUR ingredients and the best part - they're all natural! Australian native plants grown on our farm, extra virgin olive oil from a nearby grove, beeswax produced by bees right here on our property, and water of course! Our incredible bees not only create the wax we use but also pollinate the very trees that provide our natural healing solutions, forming a deep and inseparable connection between plant and product.

BEESWAX

Natural compounds (esters, fatty acids, hydrocarbons) offer skin benefits: moisturisation, anti-inflammatory and antibacterial properties, softening, wound healing, and protection.

It locks in moisture, soothes irritation, prevents bacterial growth, and shields skin from environmental irritants.

AUSTRALIAN NATIVES

Healing plants, rich in terpenoids, flavonoids, alkaloids, tannins, essential oils, glycosides, phenolic acids, and saponins, have demonstrated proven effectiveness with antimicrobial, anti-inflammatory, antioxidant, analgesic, and digestive support properties, making them highly valuable for traditional and modern medicinal applications.

EXTRA VIRGIN OLIVE OIL

Rich in antioxidants like vitamin E and polyphenols, it offers skin benefits including moisturisation, anti-aging effects, anti-inflammatory properties, skin repair, and skin brightening due to its composition of fatty acids, squalene, and phytosterols.

WHAT OUR STOCKISTS ARE SAYING..

"I'm passionate about supporting local businesses like Woodleigh Hills! Having their products on our shelves lets our community see and try them firsthand. The Wilga Pain Rub is a bestseller – it's Magic! Personally, as a massage therapist, I love using Wilga Pain Rub on myself and recommending it to my own clients is amazing. I hear lots of fantastic feedback from clients, but particularly love one of our clients telling me that she tried the 'Native Apricot Rub' as a alternative to her facial moisturiser, and the results were amazing, her skin was clearer, and dryness disappeared, so good 😊"

- Sam from Bodhi Zen

At Providence Foods, we believe in supporting small business and offering quality local and handmade goods.

We wanted to offer natural healing products that are good for customers and of course, the environment!

We also love that Justine's products use native Australian plants, continuing and preserving Indigenous knowledge.

- Maddie from Providence Foods

As a stockist, choosing to offer Woodleigh Hills products was an easy decision. We're dedicated to providing our customers with solutions that offer genuine healing and relief, and Woodleigh Hills delivers exactly that.

Their products boast a remarkable blend of natural ingredients, carefully selected for their healing properties. From alleviating discomfort to calming inflammation, Woodleigh Hills' formulations offer tangible benefits that our customers can trust.

Furthermore, their commitment to supporting local and Australian businesses resonates with our values as a company. By stocking Woodleigh Hills, we're not just offering products; we're supporting a network of local growers and producers, fostering community and sustainability in the process.

In essence, partnering with Woodleigh Hills isn't just about adding products to our shelves –it's about offering our customers a path to healing while championing local businesses and values we believe in.

SUCCESS STORIES

Logan's mum spent a lot of money on many products searching for the one to help her little boy, and then her husband came across the native apricot at one of our stockists, and hasn't looked back. Even at 2 years old little Logan knows this is the product for him, he calls it Logan's cream and we call it Logan's magic!

AFTER

"I highly recommend Woodleigh Hills Rub, I have 3 level spinal Fusion and Chronic ongoing back pain. My Pain is always there and this amazing rub really helps me get through my day. I would be lost without it."

- Danny Palmer

"Kangaroo Apple Rub working its magic on a client's friend (diagnosed with lupus), swelling in her calves! The swelling went from 44cm down to 39cm"

- Lou

AFTER

"After a week of a severe eczema flair on my face, I was desperate. I bought your product (Native Apricot) at Natural Supply Co Geelong after the wonderful girls told me to try it out. And wow. I would say 70% reduction in redness and flaking after the first 2 goes. Thank you so much, I'll be buying more in the future for sure!"

FRESH LOOSE LEAF TEA

MAROON BUSH TEA

INGREDIENTS: Scaevola spinescens (Maroon Bush)

May assist with reducing oxidative stress and support your body's natural barrier against pathogens, aid immune modulation, antimicrobial activity, and support for cell health, calm inflammation and detoxification

Research shows that Scaevola spinescens (Maroon Bush) leaf contains a unique profile of bioactive compounds including phenolics, flavonoids, saponins, and luteolin derivatives.

Studies indicate that the leaf has the highest concentration of total phenolic and flavonoid compounds among the plant parts tested, giving it strong antioxidant capacity to help neutralise free radicals and reduce oxidative stress. These antioxidants support the body's natural defences against pathogens and environmental stressors.

The saponins present in the leaf have been linked to immune modulation, antimicrobial activity, and support for healthy cell function, while luteolin derivatives are known in related species for their anti-inflammatory and immune-signalling effects. Together, these compounds help to calm inflammation, promote recovery, and maintain immune balance.

BATH SALTS

Why We Use Murray River Pink Salt

Our bath blends are made with Murray River Pink Salt Flakes, harvested from ancient, mineral-rich aquifers along the Murray-Darling Basin. These soft, delicate flakes dissolve beautifully into warm water, helping to cleanse, soothe and revitalise the skin. We choose Murray River salt because it's 100% Australian and environmentally positive – its harvest helps reduce salinity in the Murray River, protecting vital waterways and surrounding farmland. Every handful supports both the land and the communities that care for it.

Unlike Himalayan salt, which is mined overseas and shipped across the world, Murray River salt keeps our blends close to home – light on the earth, rich in minerals, and true to our belief that healing begins with what grows and flows right here.

WILGA

Whether you're tight from tension, heavy with fatigue or blocked up and congested, this soak brings natural relief where you need it most.

NATIVE APRICOT

Safe for children and sensitive skin types, it offers hydration, calm and comfort.

MAROON BUSH

Combined with mineral-rich salts, this soak helps eliminate built-up stress and fatigue while promoting healthy skin and inner balance.

KANGAROO APPLE

This soak promotes skin repair, supports the scalp, and strengthens nails; all while helping relieve inflammation throughout the body.
