Who are we?

An improved approach to health

Formed in 2011, McBoben Health Science is the first in a new generation of health-science companies. Advancing the role of nutritional and fruits therapy to change the course of health management for consumers, we believe natural ingredients are more effective than chemicals. Our focus is feeling oneness with patients and partners.

Investing in novelty and leveraging leading edge science, we are forging a new industry between food and chemical pharmaceuticals. Initially founded on Nano Nutrition Research, our approach is based on:

- inherently safe nutritional therapies;
- relevant levels of quality of spiritual life benefits; and
- proven clinical and health economic value which will be attained till 2025.

Our global mindset has led us to expand throughout both Europe and Asia, with our headquarters located in Sydney, Australia. We have established a portfolio of consumer and medical nutrition brands, and utilise our extensive molecular knowledge to address the specific needs of over ten million people daily, and many more annually.

We are energetically involved in identifying fundamental scientific Ultra-advances and making them accessible to consumers world-wide by building a transformational pipeline. We understand how naturally occurring nutrients can be used to impact disease at a cellular level, along with their potentially greater therapeutic benefit to the health of the human body.

Our activities include a number of acquisitions and investments:

PCNS – portfolio of clinical nutritional solutions for understanding how deficiency of natural vitamins and minerals affecting our aging which epidemically is happening of limiting the time for planning our food according our vitamin and mineral needs (especially for young population errors of ageing related to their biological ageing);

Golden Flower Laboratory – diagnostics and Biopharmaceuticals in gastroenterology (GI) and oncology;

RadianHealth – prescription medical foods for the brain and metabolic disorders;

Nutrition Science Partners (joint venture) – exploring the potential of botanical-based nutrients, focusing on gastrointestinal disorders; and

Makin (minority stake) – supporting trials of a nutritional therapy for people suffering from Alzheimer’s disease.

Our Vision

In serving the needs of the human body we can encourage a shift towards a happier society. Our focus is on our consumers and patients, along with their doctors, nurses, healthcare specialists, carers and the government who each play an important role in the management of health.

We are inspired to support spiritual growth where nutritional therapies are both effective and valued. Our vision is to change the way the pharmaceutical industry operates; to use natural ingredients instead of chemicals.

Our Objectives

- Shape scientific platforms to elevate and expand the role of nutrition in the health of our body.
- Create knowledge to more clearly define and more accurately target appropriate nutritional interventions, including the most efficient way of carrying molecules.
- Apply these insights to the future of targeted nutrition for the maintenance of health and delay apoptosis.

Core Values

- Customers First
- Passionate and Committed
- Transparent Communication
- Little Things Matter
- Employee & Customer Relationships Built On Trust
- “We” Over “I”

The Science

Research & Development

Research & Development (R&D) is a key component in becoming an industry leader in Nano nutrition, health & wellness, and in realising our vision of encouraging a shift towards a happier society.

Our global R&D

We have a dynamic network of R&D facilities located around the world working on scientific research and product development. McBoben Health Science emphasises therapeutic areas where nutrition and lifestyle can have a valuable impact, and together help to promote Healthy Ageing.

These areas include:

- Brain Health (e.g. cognitive decline, Alzheimer's disease);
- Hair, skin and nail;
- Metabolic Health (e.g. obesity, diabetes); and
- Gastro-Intestinal Health (e.g. inflammatory bowel disease).

New Product Development Process

Market Research is one of the main steps in a fruitful product launch. Here at McBoben we provide research and development assistance to our Clients to permit them to plan and then grow a complete market strategy for their brand or product launch.

We have a considerable overseas market and regulatory know-how, enabling us to aid clients with local and global product development and launches. We particularly welcome new clients and can aid with fresh Formulations, development or improvement on any existing constructions. In addition we can advise on sustainable material sourcing and estimation of raw materials.

To provide a one stop solution for clients, we also aid with sourcing of packaging, testing, development and origination. Our Accreditations and Regulatory compliance combined with our technical abilities can aid with claim substantiation and claims testing.

We match this with quality assurance and quality control which are of the highest standard. Our testing expertise includes stability and compatibility testing, and temperature related stability testing.

Manufacturing

GreenNature focuses on molecules that are complex to synthesize from a process point of view, and from a patent point of view. Processing is managed under the supervision of McBoben's own chemists based in Sydney, Australia. The route of synthesis is handled by a contract developer, notably one that can also do upscaling and commercial production. Most of the contract developers are from Europe and Australia. Furthermore, McBoben runs their own chemical labs in Sydney for process research. The commercial producers are from Germany and Australia. McBoben is the owner of the IP and typically files process and polymorph patents under McBoben's name.

The DMF is filed by the contract manufacturer under its name or alternatively under the name of McBoben but the IP belongs to GreenNature. In addition to its own development, McBoben also partners with Australian manufacturers in order to offer additional API to additionally service its customers. In this latter case McBoben assumes responsibility for GMP and Regulatory, and markets the products under the McBoben Responsibility.

At McBoben, we work with customers, across a range of different therapeutic areas.

This experience and working knowledge allows our team to provide the latest insights and identify opportunities for our customers, sometimes before they even happen!

Regulatory Affairs

McBobens' regulatory experts have up-to-date knowledge of the regulatory requirements in the field of nutrition, particularly novel food and nutraceuticals. McBoben can support you with the development of a regulatory strategic plan. Furthermore, McBoben prepares your regulatory dossiers (novel food dossiers, for health claim substantiation) and can represent you at the EFSA or the FDA.

What differentiates us from other dietary supplement manufacturers?

Bringing exceptional nutritional products, brand-building services, and support are just some of the ways that dietary supplement manufacturers can aid their clients, but it takes an exceptional and experienced company to successfully bring them a completely comprehensive solution.

At McBoben, we draw on many years of industry experience to provide owners of nutrition supplement companies with the following suite of services.

Our customer-centric approach to growing your business

We're confident you'll receive exceptional customer service from our team – starting with the moment you contact us. Your account will be managed by one of our knowledgeable Production Specialists, who will ensure that all of your questions are answered and that the finished product you receive meets your exact expectations. Each team member goes through an intensive training process and is equipped with extensive industry knowledge and work experience.

Convenient and time-saving services

MegaPostbiotic

PREBIOTICS

Short-chain fatty acids are among the most important products of the gut microbiome. Help to restore your gut bacteria so that you can get your health and your life back on track.

Provides an excellent source of prebiotic fiber with immune-supportive effects

Ingredients

Sodium butyrate 1200mg

Sodium propionate 300mg

MegaPostbiotic

Overview

Overview

MegaPostbiotic is a dietary supplement specially formulated with a slow-release capsule to deliver a unique blend of the naturally occurring short chain fatty acids (SCFAs) butyrate and propionate, where your body needs them, If you don't eat enough fiber, your body doesn't get the short chain fatty acids that it needs. Your gut microbiome contains good bacteria that are essential to digest fiber from your diet to make short chain fatty acids (SCFAs). SCFAs, especially butyrate and propionate, are fundamental to your healthy microbiome balance, digestive health and maximizing your nutrient absorption.

How It works

ONE OF A KIND SCFA BLEND- Butyric acid and propionate are short chain fatty acids produced in the colon. They support probiotic bacteria and GI health.

FORTIFY HEALTHY FLORA – Butyrate and propionate work together to fuel and fortify the cells of the digestive tract.

PREBIOTIC BENEFITS – Friendly bacteria in the colon make SCFAs by breaking down fiber. Sodium butyrate and propionic acid can be beneficial for individuals with low-fiber or high-fat diets.

SLOW-RELEASE CAPSULE WITH ADVANCED ODOR-CONTROL TECHNOLOGY – Remains intact through the stomach for targeted colon release and has barely any odor. Suggested use is 1-2 capsules with each meal or as directed by your healthcare practitioner.

MAINTAIN A HEALTHY MICROBIOME and digestive health.

Defined Daily Dose

As a dietary supplement take 1-2 capsules of MegaPrebiotic with each meal up to a total of 6 capsules per day.

Cautions

These statements have not been evaluated by the Food and Drug Administration. This product is not intended to diagnose, treat, cure, or prevent any disease.
