A-Series

Workspace's in-house designed timber family, the A-Series, is named for its distinctive "A" frame form seen across all products in this range.

The A-Series was created to meet the need for customisable furniture that seamlessly fits various environments and caters to a wide range of users. The range includes chairs, lounges, benches, stools and tables. Customise the tables with power, data, screens and modesty panels to make sophisticated workstations.

Proudly Australian-made, the A-Series showcases exceptional local craftsmanship and design, ensuring durability and a high standard of quality. It embodies the essence of Australian innovation, providing an outstanding user experience. The "supernormal" aesthetic ensures the A-Series blends unobtrusively into any space without dominating it.

Employing traditional joinery, high-quality foams, and symmetrical geometry, the A-Series combines style with comfort, practicality, and superior quality.
