Up

The Up table is a height-adjustable gas lift table and is the perfect side/conversation table for any space. Its simple design and easy-to-use height adjustment make for the ideal break out area companion.

With its quality release lever and smooth gas lift, Up requires minimal effort to re-position, providing a gentle and stable transition between height levels. The off-centre column gives the seated user ample leg clearance, while the slim steel base offers a sturdy grounding without occupying space.

A choice of an elliptical, rectangular or castor base, with a variety of shapes and sizes for the top makes the Up table a highly functional and versatile option in any application.
