01. Hello!

Inspired by nature

Birthered from a passion for art and sustainability, we pride ourselves in providing eco-friendly alternatives to the tons of cards wasted in the world each year. Our mission is to offer products that are simple, eco-friendly and heart-warming.

Love our earth

Australians waste tons and tons of cards each year... I am a strong believer that every action towards a healthier planet counts, as little as it seems. That's very naturally, with a graphic design background in my pocket, that I moved onto designing and making plantable seeded cards.

Bring happiness

Bonjour, I'm Sarah, the face behind Paper and Bloom. According to the 5 love languages book, I'm a gift person and I love helping others find the perfect touch for their dear ones. I can't wait to help you make your big day memorable with words that turn into flowers!

02. About seeded paper

Seeded paper

100% recycled paper
Embedded with Swan river daisy seeds

All our cards are made of 100% recycled handmade paper with randomly distributed embedded Swan River daisy seeds, creating a fascinating uniqueness for every card.

Found in Western Australia, Swan River Daisy is a small native plant which produces a stunning array of beautiful purple, white, blue or pink flowers.

When the card is planted, the paper will compost away to leave only flowers. The card can be potted or sown directly into the garden soil.

Make your wedding stand out

We have a variety of designs in our eco-friendly wedding cards selection. Very textured, recycled seeded paper is beautiful by essence, but it also means that your guests can plant their cards and have something to remember your big day by. I find this so poetic...

A person with curly hair is holding a rectangular card. The card is white with a textured, seeded paper appearance. It features several small, light green floral illustrations scattered across the left side. The words "THANK YOU" are printed in large, bold, light green capital letters on the right side. Below this, there is a paragraph of text in smaller, dark green capital letters, followed by the names "CHLOE & BLAKE" and a final line of text at the bottom.

THANK YOU

FOR CELEBRATING WITH US ON OUR SEPCIAL DAY, WE ARE SO GRATEFUL FOR YOUR GENEROUS GIFT AND
WELL WISHES. WE HOPE TOU ENJOYED THE DAY
AS MUCH AS WE DID.
