CoCo Contemporary Connoisseur

'We Choose To Care How Things Are Made'

———— Shantala Chung Gon- Creative Director

Supporting our South Australian Makers

Originally based at the Jamfactory Contemporary Craft and Design, Shantala Chung Gon has a wealth of knowledge when it comes to mentoring, managing and marketing Australian artists and designers.

Founded on a long-standing passion for art, design and 'beautiful things', Shantala and her team then continued on with CoCo to support those new independent artist and makers who had finished their associate-ship and were ready to make the next step into the marketplace.

CoCo's philosophy is to accentuate the importance of local Australian artists by promoting and exhibiting them in Australia and globally through commercial and private clients. We fully endorse the skills and creativity of our artists and know our clients will receive high quality, unique and expertly finished pieces.

"We foster the relationship between art and people by engaging with our clients and by maintaining close relationships with all our artists. This direct and personal contact ensures you will always receive the highest degree of detail and quality, and most importantly have all your desires met." - Shantala Chung Gon, Creative Director.

Testimonial

The team at Contemporary Connoisseur were lovely to work with and made the whole process seamless from start to finish. It was important to us to support a South Australian company that advocates for local artists, and Shantala and Llewelyn Ash's expertise, quality of work and attention to detail was second to none.

They tailored the trophy to our awards, creating a free-flowing design that made each trophy unique while fitting with the overall theme.

Lucky Drop Paperweight

The 'Lucky Drop' is a hand blown ornamental object. It has a curved and weighted base to allow it to gently rock.

Many of our clients like to have them mantled on a wooden base with engraving on a plaque.

We can colour match all our glass in your company brand palette and add logos or personalised engraving. Gift boxes and gift wrapping available. We can also add personalised stickers on the gift box. Complimentary artists statement cards provided with each piece.

CoCo Contemporary Connoisseur was commissioned by the Hon Julie Bishop to create a unique statue for the 'Foreign Leaders Award'. Our client selected three colours to represent South Australia. 300 mini glass lucky drops were then hand blown by Llewelyn Ash and the CoCo team gift wrapped in custom cylinders, hand-wrote personalised gift cards and delivered.
