HELPING BUSINESS, HELPING CONSUMERS, HELPING EXPORTERS, HELPING AUSTRALIA

The Australian Made, Australian Grown (AMAG) logo supports growers, processors and manufacturers in Australia by helping them to clearly identify their products as genuinely Australian. At the same time, it provides consumers and businesses with a highly recognised and trusted symbol for genuine Aussie products and produce.

After nearly three decades, the AMAG logo enjoys significant recognition (98%)* and trust (88%)* in Australia and around the world, as an identifier of genuine Aussie products and produce.

Administered by the not-for-profit Australian Made Campaign Ltd (AMCL), the logo is Australia's only registered country-of-origin certification trade mark, and most Australians (92%)* are influenced by the logo when making a purchasing decision.

The logo is also registered in the USA, China, South Korea and Singapore. It is used by more than 2500 companies on more than 15,000 products sold around the world and more than one third of the companies registered to use the logo use it in export markets.

FOR BUSINESS, BY BUSINESS

Originally an initiative of the Federal Government in 1986, the AMAG logo is now administered by AMCL and supported by the Australian Chamber of Commerce & Industry (ACCI) and the network of state and territory chambers of commerce.

AMCL is governed by a Board comprising senior business representatives. AMCL's governing members include the Australian and state and territory chambers of commerce and industry, and the National Farmers Federation.

A POWERFUL MARKETING TOOL

Research shows that consumers, businesses and government have a preference for buying genuine Australian products, made and grown to Australia's high quality, health and safety standards. So it makes sense for businesses to market their products as 'genuinely Australian' using the AMAG logo.

By aligning products with the AMAG logo, businesses can visually demonstrate their Australian credentials. Applying the logo at point of sale, on packaging and promotional materials, and on social media and other online platforms, allows businesses to influence purchasing decisions, create brand preference and drive sales.

The logo is promoted in a multi-million dollar marketing campaign each year (across TV, print, radio, outdoor, online and social media) encouraging consumers and businesses to buy products carrying the logo. Australian Made licensees are also eligible to participate in complementary marketing initiatives coordinated by AMCL.

A BROAD DIGITAL REACH

The Australian Made Campaign also provides licensees with access to a range of online and digital platforms, to help strengthen their digital presence and drive online consumers to their businesses. All Australian Made licensees and registered products are listed and searchable on the exclusive Australian Made website—second only to Google as the preferred site for searching for Australian products*.

Only licensees can advertise on www.australianmade.com.au and associated e-newsletters, and leverage the Australian Made Campaign's social media platforms. Licensees also have the opportunity to engage with members of the Aussie Made Club—an opt-in membership group of over 30,000 Aussie consumers with a preference for Australian products.

A CERTIFICATION TRADEMARK FOR PRODUCE AND PRODUCTS

The AMAG logo can only be used on products that are registered with the Australian Made Campaign and meet the criteria outlined in the AMAG Logo Code of Practice. These criteria are equivalent to, or stricter than the provisions of the Australian Consumer Law.

The logo must always be used with one of the approved descriptors below. Businesses may include additional information, such as 'Australian Made since 1905' or 'Australian Grown in Queensland'.

Australian Made

The product has undergone its last substantial transformation in Australia.

Australian Grown

Each significant ingredient has been grown in Australia and all or virtually all of the production processes have occurred in Australia.

Australian Seafood

The product is a seafood product, all of the product's significant ingredients are grown or harvested in Australia, and all, or nearly all, of the processing has been carried out in Australia.

Product of Australia

All of the product's significant ingredients come from Australia, and all or nearly all of the manufacturing or processing is also carried out in Australia.

Australian

Can only be used in export markets.

The product must satisfy the criteria for at least one of the four preceding claims, and not be misleading.

Australian Made and Owned

Because ownership is important to many Australians, businesses registered to use the logo have access to relevant artwork and can purchase merchandise with this descriptor.

Businesses can only use these descriptors if they meet the criteria above and are locally owned. The logo cannot be used by companies that are Australian owned, but manufacture or import their goods from overseas.

AUSSIE FOOD PRODUCTS AND THE LOGO

Changes to food labelling laws have seen the Australian Government incorporate the Australian Made, Australian Grown kangaroo logo into a new country of origin label, which will be mandatory for most Australian food products sold in Australia.

Businesses have two years from 1 July 2016 to 30 June 2018 to comply with the new requirements. Any labels applied to food products after this date will need to comply with new country of origin labelling requirements.

From 1 July 2016, the Australian Made Campaign will no longer issue new licences for food products to use the logo as a country of origin certification trade mark in Australia.

AMCL will continue to renew existing food licences during the two-year transition period until businesses adopt the new labels. After this time, Australian food products sold domestically will no longer be able to use the Australian Made, Australian Grown certification trade mark as a standalone country of origin symbol.

It is important to note that the new labelling requirements are not mandated for exported food products. Businesses wishing to use the AMAG logo on exported food have the option of using the new labels or using the logo under a licence with AMCL.

The Australian Made Campaign continues to administer and promote the AMAG logo as a voluntary country-of-origin certification trade mark for all other types of products, exported food (where applicable), and for use as a marketing tool in a corporate capacity. The process for obtaining a licence to use the logo from AMCL remains the same.

For more information on the Australian Government's new mandatory country-of-origin labels, visit www.foodlabels.industry.gov.au or www.business.gov.au/foodlabels.

WHAT THEY SAY

We know that consumers are positively influenced to purchase locally made products, and the logo adds credibility to our country-of-origin claims, so it plays a very important role in our marketing.

Our foray into China is the beginning of us taking our Australian Made products to the world, each proudly carrying the green-and-gold certification trade mark.

ALLYN BEARD,

The AMAG logo is trusted, recognised and it works. It plays a key role in our promotion of the great range of locally made furniture and bedding products we stock. It helps us sell products; it's as easy as that.

GERRY HARVEY,
EXECUTIVE CHAIRMAN,
HARVEY NORMAN HOLDINGS

We knew that for a premium brand like Oz Kids to succeed in China we would need to use the Australian Made logo. The Australian Made logo is widely recognised in Asia as genuinely representing products that are made in Australia.

DOUG SMITH,

Coles is proud to have a great range of Australian made and grown products on our shelves. We use the logo on a large number of Coles branded products as well as our point of sale material and Coles catalogues.
